

Please DO NOT modify the existing ban on cellular telephones on airborne aircraft. People are too ignorant to use any degree of common sense and courtesy when they're screaming into their cellphones walking through the terminal let alone sitting next to you for a few hours in-flight!! Don't think it would be wise from a security perspective either...bad guys have cellphones too.